Documentation

1. The first part tells the browser that this is an HTML webpage and the language used is English.

2. The head section contains the page title (Internship) and some settings that help the page display correctly on all devices.

3. The body section contains everything that will actually be visible on the screen.

4. You wrote a heading that says "SELF INTRODUCTION".

   o It is centered.

   o It has purple color.

   o It is moved slightly down from the top with extra space.

5. Then you wrote a paragraph about yourself.

   o The text is blue.

   o The font size is bigger.

   o The text is centered.

   o There is some space above the paragraph.

   o The content says your name, where you are from, what you are studying, and a thank-you line.

6. You used italic and bold styling to make the paragraph look nicer.

7. The line breaks (br) are used to move the text to the next line (like pressing Enter).

8. At the end, the body and the html page are properly closed.

SELF INTRODUCTION

Hi, my name is Chaitanya Singare.
I am from Badnapur. I am currently studying Java Full Stack.

Thank you!
